

Changes in Russia's military posture and nuclear doctrine during the war against Ukraine and German Zeitenwende

We would like to cordially invite to a lecture and discussion with Dr. Phil. Margarete Klein titled “Changes in Russia's military posture and nuclear doctrine during the war against Ukraine and German Zeitenwende”. The lecture takes place on Monday 28 April 2025 at 12:30 in the room B330 (Jinonice Campus, U Kříže 8, Prague 5).

Dr. Phil. Margarete Klein

Dr. Phil. Margarete Klein, is the Head of Research Division „Eastern Europa, Eurasia“ of the Stiftung Wissenschaft und Politik (German Institute for International Security Affairs) in Berlin. In her research, she focuses on Russian military policy and doctrine as well as on broader security policy issues. One of her more recent papers is on Russian recruitment policy during the war.

In her presentation and subsequent discussion, she will analyse Russian military policy and doctrine, including its prominent nuclear component, recruiting of military personnel and the role of the military in Russian politics and society during the Russian war against Ukraine. Also, she will elaborate on German response to the new dimension of Russian threat in course of the German Zeitenwende, historical turning point in German defence policy