

US ELECTIONS NEAR THE FINISH LINE: FORECASTS AND EXPECTATIONS

IMS
FSV UK

30
YEARS

A debate with experts will answer key questions and provide insight into American society and politics just before Election Day.

What do voter preference polls say a few days before the US presidential elections? How have the forecasts gone wrong in the past?

Have Democratic voters identified with Harris and does Trump still have solid Republican support?

Have new dividing lines emerged in this election?

Speakers:

Jiří Pondělíček (Forum 24)

Michael Smith (Democrats Abroad CZ)

Marek Koten (Vice Chairman Republicans Overseas CZ)

Kateřina Březinová (Head of the Ibero-American Centre, Metropolitan University)

Date: Thursday 24.10.2024, 17:30
