invite you to a panel discussion

(Post)Brexit Europe, Great Britain and Germany

Tuesday, December 17th, 17:30-19:30

Prague Creative Centre, Old Town Square 4/1, Prague

The Brexit (whatever the outcome of the political process) has changed both Great Britain and the EU and will continue to influence the British and European future for time to come. The British-German-Czech panel will address the most crucial issues linked with Brexit and related internal as well as external issues/challenges of the European development from British, German, and Czech perspectives.

The panelists are:

- Prof. Simon Bulmer, University of Sheffield
- Prof. William E Paterson, Aston University, Birmingham
- Eliška Tomalová, Institute of International Studies, Prague
- Christos Katsioulis, Head of the Representation of the Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung in London
- Moderation: Leonie Liemich, Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung in Prague

The panel will start with brief introductory statements of the panelists and will continue with an open public discussion.
